script size   1

script size.   Script size describes one of the three related fonts in a family. Script size is smaller than text size but larger than scriptscript size. TeX uses script size for subscripts and superscripts, as well as for the numerators and denominators of fractions in text.